Smaller Portions and Smaller Prices

Cooler Temperatures Invite Al Freco Dining on Estate House's Waterfront Terrace

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. – October 1, 2009 – Estate House, the distinctive restaurant on the Scottsdale canal in downtown Scottsdale, has welcomed the Fall Season by opening for Lunch. The new lunch menu features light seasonal dishes, smaller portions and affordable prices that invite a guilt-free mid-day break whether its a day out with friends or an important business lunch. Executive Chef Gio Osso says, “We are very excited to launch the new season with lunch at Estate House. Guests will find our New American cuisine influences popular lunch entrees such as the Panino Sandwich of Prosciutto di Parma, marinated eggplant and house pulled mozzarella, and the Flatbread with roasted wild mushrooms, honey caramelized shallots, taleggio cheese and truffle oil drizzle.”

A big part of Estate House's appeal is its outdoor seating along the canal waterfront. The restaurant's promenade walkway, antique French Stone sink and lush landscaping add charm and ambiance. SouthBridge's unique boutiques make Estate House ideal for a shopping day out with friends, and the Scottsdale Trolley provides complimentary service to the Scottsdale Fashion Square Mall.

The new lunch menu features salads, sandwiches, flatbreads and pastas. Entree prices range from $10 to $14.
